Red Herring geared up for People's Summit

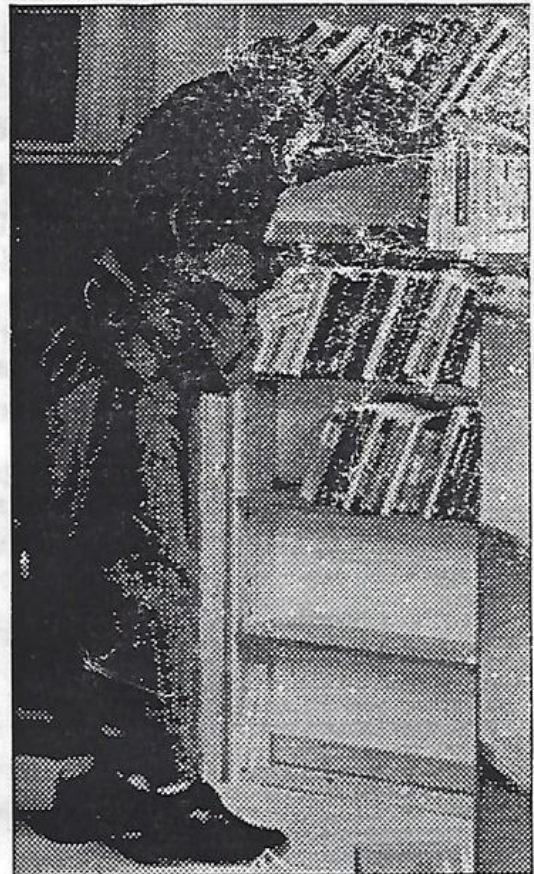

The ordering has been done and the booktables reserved: Red Herring Co-op is ready for the People's Summit held as a counterpoint to the G-7 gathering in Halifax. You'll see us at the two main gatherings: presentations by Ecofeminism author Vandana Shiva on Friday, June 16 at 8 p.m. and David Suzuki on Saturday, June 17, both at the McNally Building, Saint Mary's University. We'll also be at the People's Marketplace in the South Commons with loads of books, including those by or about other P-7 speakers and guests such as Ed Broadbent and Bob White. With an appropriately welcoming window display at the co-op, we're looking forward to great sales during what should be a pretty exciting week.

Bring us your treasures!

Red Herring will be having a yard sale Saturday, June 10 at 6171 Duncan Street from 10 am to noon. Please bring us any good junk you want to get rid of — price it yourself. If you want to drop stuff off before Saturday, bring them to the store. And be sure to come and shop. There'll be great bargains at this annual Duncan, Lawrence and Allen streets sale!

New location a hit

Red Herring staff, volunteers, and customers are all very much enjoying our new location. The sense of community and the increased walk-by traffic make it a great improvement over Granville Street. Do drop by and check out our spring stock. (1578 Argyle, and our phone number has not changed) We have new Herring t-shirts and we'll soon have a spiffy new sign. Thanks to all those "professional" packers, movers, painters, shelvees, and carpet-layers for helping out with the move.

Claudia Gahlinger restocks the shelves.

The Herring gets a new life

Herrings paint late into the night to prepare the new space.

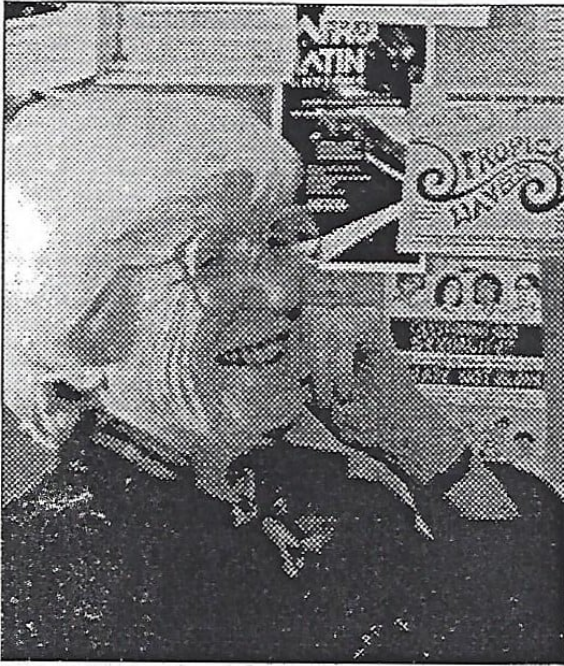

Yes, Mary, it's getting late.

Red Herring member Muriel Duckworth was the honorary ribbon-cutter!

MP Svend Robinson made encouraging remarks at Red Herring's opening. Where, oh where, were our other B.C. herrings??

Wynne Jordan provides some ambiance at the opening.
